AMERICA MARU SAFE

ture by trying to enter Yokohama, and he passed that place. He had called at Midway on the outward trip but nothing concerning the presence of the Russian fleet could be learned. The vessel was held in Yokkaichi for a day before she was permitted to proceed to Hong Kong, as the Russian cruiser Novik had escaped from the Port Arthur engagement. When the Novik was reported to the northward of Japan the America Maru was permitted to resume her voyage.

The vessel has not a very large cargo. She brings 854 tons for this port and carries 418 tons for San Francisco. The left Hong Kong September 8 and Yokohama September 22. She was held for four days in Yokohama on account of a bad typhoon which prevented her working cargo. The vessel has only seven through cabin passengers, and brought no cabin passengers for Honolulu. Charles Thompson, who was formerly chief engineer, has been relieved by F. S. Farnsworth, formerly chief engineer of the Nippon Maru, and who had been on reserve duty since last February. Thompson has gone on reserve duty now.

According to news brought by the officers of the America Maru it is understood that General Manager M. Shiraiishi and Agent W. H. Avrey when they went to England some months ago, contracted for the raw material for the construction of two boats to be sent to Nagasaki. These vessels will be built by the company at Nagasaki and will be 15,000 tons each, the same size as the Mongolia and Manchuria. This news leaked out after the meeting of the directors of the company at Tokio a few days before the departure of the vessel from Yokohama.

WILL TEST AN IMPORTANT LAW

RESTAURANT LICENSE LAW TO BE TAKEN ON HABEAS CORPUS
ACTION BEFORE THE COURT.

Quite an interesting case was before Judge Lindsay this morning. It was the case against Ah Yong charged with violating the restaurant license law by keeping a restaurant without having secured a license so to do. Six other alleged offenders were arrested with Yong, but by agreement it was decided to make a test case out of Yong's trial, so the others were continued for a week.

C. C. Bittling for the defence moved to quash the complaint on the ground that the law which provided that before any one could first secure a restaurant license they must secure the endorsement from the Board of Health to the effect that the place was in a sanitary condition, was unconstitutional. It gave arbitrary powers to the Board he argued. Judge Gear had declared this law to be unconstitutional in a similar case against Russian Frank some time ago.

Judge Lindsay overruled the motion and the defendant was found guilty upon the hearing of evidence. Bittling did not note any appeal but he took the other means of beating the case by suing for a writ of habeas corpus for his client. The case will probably go before Judge Gear who will then be in the position of having to either sustain himself or else disregard his former decision.

As soon as Ah Yong had been sentenced by Judge Lindsay, Attorney C. C. Bittling swore out a writ of habeas corpus and had the prisoner brought before Judge Gear in the Circuit court. It was pointed out that Judge Gear had already declared the law under which the fine was imposed as bad and Ah Yong was at once released on his own recognizance the case being continued until Monday at 9:30.

Work will be commenced as soon as the right of way can be secured.

MOTION IN THE TOBACCO CASE

HACKFELD AND COMPANY FILE
A MOTION TO DISSOLVE THE IN-JUNCTION.

In the case of I. Rubenstein & Company against H. Hackfeld and Company in which the plaintiffs are seeking a permanent injunction in place of the present temporary one prohibiting the defendants from selling a certain brand of tobacco, answer and motion to dissolve the injunction was filed yesterday afternoon by the defendants.

Hackfeld & Co's plea is that Rubenstein & Co. have no right whatever to the exclusive handling of this particular tobacco. A member of the firm in July last negotiated with the agent of the American Tobacco for the purchase and delivery within a year of 200,000 pounds of the tobacco and at the same time Rubenstein & Co. had been appointed agents for Hawaii for this tobacco, which is manufactured exclusively by the American Tobacco Company. Hackfeld's further deny that Rubenstein ever owned or possessed the name of this tobacco as a trade mark and asks for the dissolution of the present temporary injunction with costs. The cause will be heard before Judge Gear.

THE TICKETS UNSETTLED

District. D. M. Kupihea, who was nominated by the Fifth District Democratic convention last month, has shown altogether too coquettish a disposition to suit the party leaders, and his resignation from the ticket has been requested. Inasmuch as Kupihea was given a representative nomination by the Home Rulers yesterday, Kupihea decided he could afford to cut loose, and he complied by presenting his resignation. The vacancy on the ticket will be filled today by the Democratic central committee.

Kupihea was a member of the House last time, and won a good deal of notoriety by his complete ignorance of the Organic Act coupled with an inveterate habit of referring to it in every debate. By this means he added much to the fun of the session. He is secretary of the Home Rule organization, but was nevertheless nominated by the Democrats. When the Home Rulers put him up too, however, the Democrats repented, and so they have pulled him down.

LAUKEA THINKS HE WILL WIN

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE SAYS
SIGNS ARE ENCOURAGING ON HAWAII ISLAND.

Col. Curtis P. Laukea the Democratic nominee for Congress, arrived this morning from Hilo on the steamer Kilauea, after nearly a month's campaigning tour of the Big Island. He was accompanied by John Manase who has stumped Hawaii with him.

"I feel greatly encouraged with the prospect," said Col. Laukea. "I believe that we will carry Hawaii at the coming election. Our legislative ticket is strong and I anticipate a number of the nominees being elected."

"I have been on Hawaii for nearly a month. During that time, I have visited every section and made a thorough tour of the island. While we held meetings of course, my trip was made more with the object of a personal campaign, whereby I would make a personal canvass among the residents of the different sections."

"I do not anticipate returning to Hawaii again before the election. It is my opinion that we can rely upon carrying that island. On Monday I will leave for Maui to remain two weeks making a tour of that island. From Maui I will return to Honolulu and then go to Kauai for about a week, returning then to Honolulu in order to devote the last few weeks before the campaign to the island of Oahu. I will also visit Molokai."

"CHARLEY'S AUNT"

Charley's Aunt the performance that made such a hit on Thursday evening is to be repeated tonight at the opera house. The production deserves a crowded house and should get it.

The play is a delightful comedy from start to finish and is acted by clever people with ambition to get every laugh out of many ludicrous complications. It is thought likely that many of the Buffalo people may attend tonight and they may feel assured of an evening's hearty entertainment. Seats are on sale during the day at Wall, Nichols and Company and later at the opera house.

All the elaborate features of the first performance are to be repeated including Kaal's select string orchestra to make the intervals musical. Ernest Kaal will render a mandolin solo during the third act.

CHARGED WITH WOOD STEALING.

HILLO, September 27.—A case which has been attracting considerable attention in legal and business circles, is the case of larceny in the first degree against H. E. Beasley, charged with appropriating to his own use 115 cords of wood belonging to the Hilo Railroad. According to the complaint, it appears that Beasley was accustomed to purchasing from various parties in Oahu, quantities of wood which he shipped over the Hilo Railroad. It is claimed that 115 cords of wood cut into lengths belonging to the railroad and piled along side their tracks was shipped by him to Honolulu as his own property. The trial has been in progress for four days before District Magistrate Hapai. H. L. Ross appears for the Territory and Le Blond & Smith for the defense. The prosecution rested their case and the defendant promptly moved for a dismissal which motion after being taken under consideration for several days, was disallowed Saturday morning by Judge Hapai. The case is set for Wednesday, when the defense will be heard.

HE USED HIGH LIFE.

HILLO, September 27.—Two Japanese, Okinaga Kenuka and Hiratsuka Kutaru were endeavoring to break a horse to drive single on Front street last Friday morning and when the animal refused to budge applied a quantity of "high life." This is a volatile liquid which evaporates like ether, when exposed to the air, and when applied to the skin gives a sensation of freezing. Animals go wild when even a small quantity of High life is thrown upon them, and invariably run or smash things to get away from the stinging of the drug. The animal in question was not slow in responding to the high life application and proceeded to run down Front street, narrowly averting several collisions and finally dumping out the occupants of the cart in front of the Hilo Mercantile Co. Aside from several bruises and three broken teeth, the Japs suffered no serious injuries. They were immediately put under arrest, and the $10 bail was forfeited in the police court yesterday.

FATHER JAMES IN HILO.

HILLO, September 27.—Father James who has been assisting Father Adrian in the St. Mary's Catholic Church, returned on last Friday to Honolulu. He is Provincial of the Hawaiian diocese, being next in authority to Bishop Lambert. During his stay in Hilo he caused many extensive improvements to be made to the church property, constructing a substantial stone wall on two sides of the lot and laying a cement walk on Bridge and King streets. The members of this parish have a warm spot in their hearts for Father James, who some fifteen years ago was in charge at Hilo. Pending the return of Father Oliver, who is now in Belgium, Father Stephen who arrived Wednesday from Honolulu, will assist in the work here. Father Stephen is one of the youngest men to assume the priestly garb, and was only ordained three years ago. He is a former Hilo young man, being then known as Peter Lancaster and residing with his parents at Waiakua. He attended the public schools and later entered St. Louis College, Honolulu subsequently graduating from the Theological Seminary, at Louvain, Belgium.

PRISONER REBELLED.

HILLO, Sept. 29.—A Chinese serving a three months' sentence in jail for assaulting a fellow countryman in Kohala objected to the jail rules which required him to wash out his cell. When spoken to by Deputy Kaohi he replied that it was not his business to clean house. The deputy tried to force him and the Chinese grappled with him and tried to throw him but Kaohi was too strong for him. In the melee Kaohi got his finger caught in a door and the Chinese closed on it with the result that the deputy had a finger broken. The prisoner was charged with assault before Judge Hapai on Monday and on conviction was given three months in jail the term to begin at the close of the one he is now serving.
